Five things worth knowing about Carmignac Emergents

- 1. Our long only, flagship Emerging Market equity fund that combines our core positioning as an Emerging Markets specialist since 1989 with our responsible investment credentials.
 - 2. A selective, high conviction approach (50 stocks, 84% active share¹) focusing on winners of the digital revolution and beneficiaries of long-term demographic trends within Emerging Markets.
 - 3. A 5-year track record with Xavier Hovasse as lead Fund Manager, recently joined by Haiyan Li Labbé both with more than 20 years of experience in Emerging Markets.
 - 4. A socially responsible fund classified as Article 8² and accredited with multiple sustainability labels (French "Label ISR" in January 2019; Belgian "Towards Sustainability" in February 2020).
 - 5. Good resilience in down markets, with top quartile risk-adjusted return and rankings versus its reference indicator and peers⁴, over 1 year, 3 years and 5 years.

Sustainability, an edge for alpha generation and risk management

Socially responsible investing has been at the core of Carmignac Emergents' philosophy for several years now:

We target companies that make a positive contribution to society or the planet, by bringing solutions to environmental and social challenges within emerging countries.

We favour companies that have a low carbon footprint or show strong commitment to reducing their negative environmental impacts⁵.

We actively engage with companies before the initial investment, during the holding period, if/when controversies occur and through shareholder voting⁶.

We have broadened the list of exclusions (on top of firm wide exclusions) based on the Fund's philosophy, process and Fund Managers' convictions.

For more details please refer to our SRI guidelines documents, Transparency Code and Engagement Report available in the "Responsible Investment" section of our website.
